We hear . . . we hear

THAT Rosanne Cash and Daryl Hannah will host the fifth annual NYC Benefit & House Party for the Appalachian Community Fund tonight at BLVD on the Bowery, and country music star Laura Cantrell will perform.

Diddy's dandy plan

DIDDY is promising the "party of the century" to celebrate his 40th birthday on Thursday. Sean Combs will take over the Plaza Hotel's Grand Ballroom. He's hired event planner Bronson Van Wyck to create a "fantasy dreamland" with fashion installations, a labyrinth, performance art and a display by "wizard of light" Bentley Meeker, who promises the lighting will grow "dimmer and sexier," punctuated by a "blizzard of light." Those expected include Queen Latifah, Russell Simmons, Spike Lee, Zac Posen, Lil' Kim and a "very special" musical guest.

Sweeter side

SHARON Osbourne doesn't always chew up singers and spit them out. She can sometimes be nice. The "America's Got Talent" judge and husband Ozzy caught Eden Espinosa's cabaret show, "From Eden With Love," at Feinstein's. The Osbournes — in town while Sharon films "Celebrity Apprentice" — turned up unannounced and mixed with other audience members, even cramming into a booth with strangers to get a better view. Said one spy, "At the end of the show, the Osbournes sent Eden a bottle of champagne. It was a real seal of approval from a rock god and goddess."

Run for heroes

WILMER Valderrama is set to join a US Marine veteran on a 100-mile trek across Louisiana. Iraq vet Brad McKee plans to start his run outside New Orleans and end in his home town of Hammond in April. McKee talked to the star of "That '70s Show" about joining him on the run at Bob Woodruff's Stand-Up for Heroes benefit this month. He told us, "My goal is to run 100 miles and raise money for the families of fallen heroes. Wilmer said he wants to join me for part of the way and set a new personal mileage goal."

Tim Burton and partner Helena Bonham Carter flank street performer Lisa Van Wambeck in Central Park yesterday. On Tuesday, MoMA will kick off a retrospective on Burton, with an exhibition and a film series spotlighting his career as a director, producer, writer, conceptual artist, photographer and illustrator.
